

ABOUT US

Data IQ specializes in custom business intelligence technology which improves performance for long-term care operators by turning their own raw data into interactive and intuitive reports and dashboards. Our team is backed by industry experts who work diligently to ensure inefficiencies do not go undetected. By aggregating data from electronic medical records, payroll, financial systems and more into our custom-built system, operators are empowered to make proactive decisions that positively impact clinical, financial and operational objectives.

Our mission is to empower decision makers with real-time data that drives successful outcomes and efficient operation.
